All exhibitors must have an equal opportunity to conduct their business without interference from their neighbours.

Display material includes, but is not limited to: signs, shelving, stand and other furniture, lighting fixtures, canopies, false ceilings, banners or flags.
13.1. Booth definition. Standard inline booth: a standard inline booth is 10 ft (3.05 m) deep and 10 ft (3.05 m) wide or a multiple thereof. It is enclosed on three sides by a back wall and two sidewalls, except for a corner booth which may be open on the side facing the cross-aisle as well as at the front. A standard inline booth backs up to other booths in the next row. Perimeter booth: a perimeter booth is a booth of any size which is located along the outer limits of the exhibit hall. It is similar in many respects to a standard inline booth, except that it does not back against any other booth. Height limitations are less restrictive than for a standard booth. Island booth: an island booth is a freestanding booth of 400 sq ft (37.16 sq m) or more with width of 20 ft (6.10 m) or more, and aisles on four sides.
13.2. Aisles. As a matter of safety, exhibitors should conduct any demonstrations or presentations in a manner which assures all exhibitor personnel and attendees are within the contracted exhibit space and not encroaching on the aisle or neighboring exhibits.
13.3. Draperies and carpeting . The Management arranges for the installation of necessary draped backdrops of uniform style for the exposition hall. Eight-foot (2.44 m) high draped backwall and 3 ft (0.91 m) high draped sidewalls are provided for all inline, and perimeter booths. The equipment consists of an interlocking frame from which flameproof drapes are suspended. Only exhibit hall aisles are carpeted by the Management. In order to maintain the professional appearance of the trade show, all exhibit booths must be carpeted at the expense of the exhibitor.
13.4. Canopies or false ceilings. Canopies or false ceilings, which are considered as display material, may be utilized by the exhibitor provided they do not exceed the height limitations for display material and do not obstruct the line of sight. Supports for canopies or false ceilings are limited to a single vertical support not to exceed 3 in (0.08 m) in diameter at the corners of the exhibit space, with the exception of islands and split-islands. 10x10’ or larger booths with roofs of any kind, including tents & pop-up canopies, require a 5 lb ABC-type fire extinguisher. Booth with any type of display involving open flame require a 5lb ABC-type fire extinguisher. Fully enclosed structures or roofed structures larger than 10’x10’ may require supplemental smoke detection as required by Vancouver Fire and Rescue Services.
13.5. Structural support. Booths must be designed in such a manner to be self-supporting. Nothing shall be taped, mounted or attached in any form or manner to walls, doors or facility structure. The driving of nails, tacks or screws into floors, walls, columns, ceiling or trim will not be permitted nor will drilling of holes into any portion of the exposition hall.
13.6. Hanging signs and graphics. Hanging signs and graphics are permitted only in all standard island and perimeter booths whether suspended from above or supported from below to a maximum height of 18 ft to the top of the sign. Hanging signs and graphics should be set back 10 ft from adjacent booths. For booths 30 ft by 30 ft and larger, Signs can be hung to a maximum of 20 ft in height.
13.7. Display height limitation and right of view. Height is the most critical dimension in the construction of exhibits. A major objective of these display rules is to ensure that every exhibitor has an equal opportunity to be seen, and excessive height in a given exhibit is generally at fault when this objective is not met. Specific height limitations for each type of booth and for different portions of each booth are indicated below. In general, greater heights are permitted in portions of booths farthest removed from adjoining booths. Lower height limitations prevail where they are necessary to ensure sight lines from the aisles into adjoining booths. If an exhibitor’s display material or product cannot comply with the sightline, it is required that the exhibitor rent a greater exhibit space.
13.7.1. Standard inline booths. Height: The maximum height of 8 ft 3 in (2.44 m) is allowed only in the rear half of the booth space (from the backline to 5 ft from the aisle) with a 4 ft (1.22 m) height restriction imposed on all materials in the front half of the booth forward to the aisle. For booths greater than 10 ft by 10 ft, all display fixtures and materials over 4 ft (1.22 m) in height and placed within 10 ft (3.05 m) of an adjoining exhibit must be confined to that area of the exhibitor's space which is within 5 ft (1.52 m) of the backline.

13.7.2. Perimeter booths. Depth: all display fixtures and materials over 4 ft (1.22 m) in height and placed within 10 lin. ft (3.05 lin. m) of an adjoining exhibit must be confined to that area of the exhibitor's space which is within 5 ft (1.52 m) of the backline. Height: all display materials will be confined to a maximum of 16 ft (4.88 m). For booths greater than 10 ft by 10 ft, all display fixtures and materials over 4 ft (1.22 m) in height and placed within 10 ft (3.05 m) of an adjoining exhibit must be confined to that area of the exhibitor's space which is within 5 ft (1.52 m) of the backline.

13.7.3. Island booths. The entire cubic content of the exhibit space may be used, to a maximum height of 18 ft (5.49 m). All surface within the booth must be of "finished" material. Continuous solid walls over 8 ft in height must not exceed 20 ft in length, or enclose an area larger than 400 sq ft without prior approval from Management.

13.8. Structural integrity. For any exhibit exceeding 12 ft (3.66 m) in height, whether an exhibit fixture or component, tower, pylon or multistory, regardless of whether people will occupy the upper area or not, a drawing must be submitted that is (a) signed or stamped by a reviewing structural engineer indicating that the structure design is properly engineered for its purposed use or (b) signed by an authorized official of the exhibit building company indicating that the structure is built in compliance with the details and specifications set forth on the drawings. Drawings are to be available for inspection by the Management, installation and dismantling contractor, exhibitor and government authorities at all times during the time the exhibit is being erected, exhibited and dismantled at the show site. Signs are also to be posted at the entrance to second story exhibits which people will occupy indicating maximum number of people the structure will accommodate. Exhibitors are to strictly enforce maximum occupancy limits. Exhibitors are cautioned when installing a display with a ceiling or second level to obtain the prior, written approval or authorization of the local fire department to ensure that their display meets with all applicable fire safety precautions including those involving smoke alarms, fire extinguishers, sprinkler systems, etc. Multi-story booths will require the submission of an engineered drawing subject to approval by the Vancouver Convention Centre.
